Help Imperatively Needed.

"The situation is entirely beyond the control of the present force, which imperatively needs all the help it can get, tents, hospitals, doctors, nurses, modern appliances and clothing to replace the garments full of typhus-bearing vermin." Describing the hospital at Ghevgheli, where occurred the death of Dr. James F. Donnelly of the American Red Cross, whom Sir Thomas calls one of the greatest heroes of the war, he said:

"The place is a village in a barren, uncultivated country, the hospital an old tobacco factory, formerly belonging to Abdul Hamid. In it were crowded 1,400 persons, without blankets or mattresses, or even straw—men hying in the clothes in which they lived in the trenches for months, swarming with vermin. All diseases—typhus, typhoid, dysentery and smallpox—were herded together. In such a state, Dr. Donnelly found the hospital, where he had a force of six American doctors, twelve American nurses and three Serbian doctors.

"The patients were waited on by Austrian prisoners. The fumes of reeking wounds and fever were unbearable. The patients objected to the windows being opened, and Dr. Donnelly was forced to break the panes.

"The first thing Dr. Donnelly did on section 5 of the new law, which pro-vides that hereafter the Court of Claims his arrival was to test the water, which he found infected. He then in which he found infected. He then improvised boilers of oil drums, in which to boil water for use. The boilers saved 500 lives, said Dr. Donnelly. He also built ovens in which to bake the clothes of the patients, but he was not provided with proper sterilizing apparatus. apparatus.

"No braver people exist than the Serbians; they have never a word of complaint. In one ward I saw a fever patient, his magnificent voice booming songs to cheer his comrades. Some were in a delirium, calling for 'mother.'

Bread Spreads Infection. "One source of infection is the army black bread, which is the only ration of the troops. "The patients in the hospital receive daily a loaf, which they put in their bed or under their pillow. Later the bed or under their pillow. Later the unused loaves are bought by peddlers and are resold, spreading disease among the people, who are medieval as far as sanitation is concerned. A Serbian soldier is given a rifle, hand grenades and, perhaps, part of a uniform, but otherwise looks after himself; his rations are coarse bread. "The street cleaning and hospital waiting are done by Austrians, who are rapidly thinning from typhus and other diseases. The best hospital in the Balkans is at Belgrade, under Dr. Edward W. Ryan of the American contingent, where there are 2,900 patients. Dr. Ryan kept the hospital neutral during the Austrian occupation and accomplished wonders diplomatically at that time. "Dr. Ryan says that the greatest labor is keeping the hospital free from vermin. The typhus affects men the most severely. Women come next, and children, for the most part, recover. The symptoms in the present epidemic begin like those of grip. The disease lasts fifteen days, with fever and delirium."

BUSY DAYS FOR YACHTSMEN. Home of Corinthian Club to Be Beautified This Spring.

Preparations have been started at the Corinthian Yacht Club headquarters, on the Virginia side of the river at the south end of the Highway bridge, for the opening of the spring boating season. With the coming of good weather owners will begin the work of painting and overhauling their craft, and the club headquarters will be a busy place for several weeks to come.

During the winteh months considerable work has been done in the filling of the reclaimed ground in front of the clubhouse. Work has also been started on the removing the old walk-ways used to reach the launches before the construction of the new yacht berths last summer. In the coming spring and summer it is proposed to grade the grounds about the clubhouse and to lay them out with flower beds and walks that will make the Corinthian headquarters the most attractive in this section of the country. There is talk among the members of other boat clubs of procuring sites for club headtalk among the members of other boat clubs of procuring sites for club head-quarters on the Georgetown channel, instead of the congested space in the Washington channel and in the East-ern branch, but as yet no official move has been made by any of the clubs looking to such a change.
